College Basketball Preview

The college basketball season starts Monday, November 4th. The Wisconsin Badgers are looking to have a better overall year after getting bounced from the tournament in the first round. They return 2 starters from last season as Tyler Wahl graduated and Chucky Hepburn and AJ Storr transferred. They brought in 3 transfers and hopes are some young players step up in expanded roles.

Marquette is set to take a small step back from last year where they got second in the Big East and lost to Cinderella NC State in the Sweet 16. They lose Tyler Kolek and Oso Ighodaro and will need preseason first team all Big East player Kam Jones to step up. They should still be competing for the top of the conference and a high seed in the tournament. They start the season ranked 18th.

Bart Lundy is back for his third year as the coach of UWM. Last season they lost in the championship game of the Horizon league to Oakland, who would go on to upset Kentucky in the NCAA tournament as a 14 seed. They should be competing for a horizon league title this year.

Kansas, Alabama, Duke and Houston are the top teams to start the year and the favorites to win it all. Also one of the favorites to win it all, UConn, will be looking to win 3 in a row.

A Message From Jay

Welcome to November!

It looks like we are starting the month out with some mild weather. We had some nice weather weekends in October! The first weekend of October, I went to the upper peninsula of Michigan with my college buddies. One of my college friends has a camp on Lake Michigammi . We shared a lot of laughs revisiting our college days! The three of us cruised around the lake on my buddy's pontoon boat with some beautiful weather. We took his Ford Bronco on the back roads and didn't see any bear or moose, but we saw a lot of great fall colors.

We spent the second weekend in October up in Green Bay with three other couples. We did some hiking at the Barkhausen Waterfowl Preserve in Suamico, WI. We went to the Packers/Cardinals football game and got to see Green Bay dominate the game. Go Pack Go! The third weekend of October was beautiful weather as well and my wife Sara and I and my son Jake went hiking at The Ice Age Trail at Pike Lake in Slinger , WI.

I spent the last few days of October in New York City attending the World Series between the New York Yankees and the Los Angeles Dodgers! Have a good month!

Be well,
Jay
